

Audio

Information
NETWORK

of Colorado

Volunteering with Audio Information Network of Colorado

AINColorado is a statewide audio information service that provides access to local area newspapers and other print format materials through on air broadcasts for blind, visually impaired and print handicapped Coloradoans.

Remote reader volunteer opportunities are available to those that live outside the Boulder/ Metro Denver region.

To insure a successful volunteer reader experience and to insure that we are able to meet our organizational needs; If you are thinking of volunteering as a remote reader with Audio Information Network of Colorado, it is imperative that you are able to meet the following requirements before proceeding further in the volunteer process.

You will need to:

- Have a personal computer running XP or later O.S.
- Have a computer Microphone
- Know how to use file transfer protocol programs (FTP)
- Know how to trouble shoot problems that may come up in the recording or file sending process
- Enjoy reading local area newspapers
- Be familiar with internet navigation
- Be comfortable with working independently
- Be comfortable with remote support
- Pass the remote reading audition

Listen

Learn

If you meet the above criteria and would like to continue in the volunteer process please visit our website at: www.aincolorado.org; go to the volunteer section and fill out the online volunteer application.

For other volunteer opportunities, information on our services, or questions please contact:

Kat Lindgren AINC
Director of Volunteer and Listener Services
303)786-7777x103
1(877)443-2001x103
www.ainc@aincolorao.org
www.aincolorado.org

Connect

AINColorado administrative offices and broadcast studios are located in Boulder, Colorado